

Year 3-4 week ending 4.11.22

English: Aladdin is the focus of our writing this half term. We have been looking at the opening scenes this week, as we start to discover how we can analyse a setting. We have used our 5 senses to examine all of the elements of the market scene, considering the differences to the climate in a desert to our own at home.

Science this half term focuses on electricity. Initial investigations have looked at what electricity is and where it can form naturally! We have also looked at renewable forms and non-renewable forms of energy.

Great resilience all around this week. Column subtraction was a challenge at the beginning of the week but we have made good progress. Taking time to form our numbers correctly and lay out our work neatly has definitely paid off!

Our geography topic examines the United Kingdom. We have looked at maps and our globe to examine how small the United Kingdom is compared to some other countries. We now know what the 4 parts of the United Kingdom are and have made our fact files to explain them.

We had great fun completing our question and answer session at the end where we used our fact files to help us.

Weather defeated our plans this week, however, we enjoyed making poppies and placing them around school as we head towards Remembrance Day. We have also placed some poppies at church as we considered the significance of it.
